THE SEYMOUR

THE CLASS OF 1968

THE SEYMOUR

KNOX MEMORIAL CENTRAL SCHOOL
CENTRAL DISTRICT NO. 1
RUSSELL, NEW YORK

DEDICATION

Because of all the help and understanding she has given to each and everyone of us, and because she has lent herself tirelessly to help us become better students and to better appreciate our future responsibilities, we, the Class of 1968, with sincere gratitude and appreciation therefore dedicate this "Seymour" to:

Mrs. Lennelle McKinnon

IN MEMORIAM

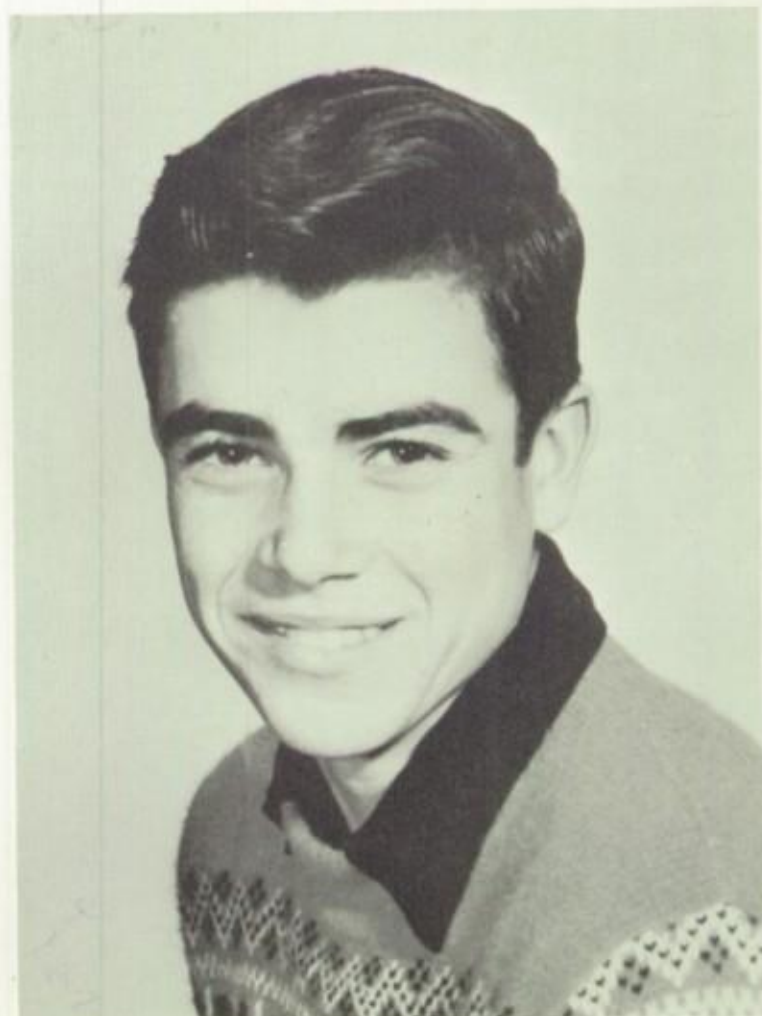

William McBroom

We all knew Billy McBroom, who was graduated from Knox Memorial only two years ago. We remember that he died fighting for our country.

Billy McBroom, through his bravery and willingness to give his life, symbolizes all the other graduates of Knox who are now or have been in the Armed Forces, trying to preserve freedom around the world.

Although he is no longer here with us, we remember that he was our classmate and his friendship was dear to all of us. Donnie Hill, with his cheerful face and smile, will long be in our hearts and minds.

CLASS HISTORY

Our class entered as freshmen in September of 1964 with 40 students. We elected Glenn Loop, President; David Brassard, Vice President; Patricia McCollum, Secretary; Douglas Beachard, Treasurer; and Mr. Knauerhase as class advisor. We eagerly started to raise money with fudge sales, food sales and movies.

In 1965 we came back as a sophomore class consisting of 39 students. We elected Glenn Loop, President; David Brassard, Vice President; Patricia McCollum, Secretary; Douglas Beachard, Treasurer; and Mrs. McKinnon as our advisor. Once again we sold fudge and candy and had movies, adding a little more money to our treasury.

Then in 1966 we were ready to start our Junior year as a class of 33. We elected Glenn Loop, President; David Brassard, Vice President; Sheryle Dana, Secretary; Douglas Beachard, Treasurer; and Mr. Parker as our advisor. We continued to raise money with dances and fudge sales. We sold banners and refreshments during baseball games. We all looked forward to the arrival of our class rings and the Junior-Senior prom entitled "Rhapsody in Blue".

Here we are now in our Senior year with a class of 32. Our class officers are: David Brassard, President; Sheryle Dana, Vice President; Connie Hickok, Secretary; and Douglas Beachard, Treasurer. We elected Mr. Knauerhase as our advisor. In November we all had fun putting on the Senior Play, The Campbells Are Coming. We have sold magazines, stationery, Christmas cards and wrapping paper. We have decided to go to Washington, D. C. on our Senior Trip.

We have all enjoyed our years here at Knox and, as Seniors, we wish to express our sincere appreciation to the faculty advisors and all those who have encouraged and guided us throughout our high school years.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1968, being of sound mind, do declare this our last will and testament, and do bequeath our treasured possessions to the student body and to the faculty of Knox Memorial.

I, Joyce Ashlaw, hope I leave.

I, Douglas Beachard, leave my luck and ability to play soccer to Orson Paro.

I, Ronnie Rice, leave English Class to anyone who wants it.

I, Christine Bigwarfe, leave to my sister Mary, my cheerleading uniform. Good luck, Mary.

I, David Brassard, leave to Mr. Constantine, one less heartache of hearing his faithful trombone player confidently play one song while the rest of the band is playing another.

I, Suzanne Bushaw, leave to Mr. Mermer my little sister. She talks even more than I do!

I, Thomas Collett, leave to "Sarge" a peaceful life.

I, Sheryle Dana, leave to Norma Jean Brassard, one pair of Go-Go boots and a half box of Cheerios for more go-go energy.

I, Gary Denesha, leave Mr. Mermer one less problem.

I, James Gagnon, leave to any Junior who wants it, my ability to find a reason for having a party when there aren't any apparent reasons.

I, Linda Collinger, leave my ability to fail Math to anyone who wants it.

I, Kela Guiles, leave Mr. French with the thought of a peaceful Algebra class.

I, Garnold Hance, leave to the Junior athletes sincere hope that they can live up to their boasts.

I, Marsha Hance, leave to Mr. Hunt, the memory of our "little talks" and my stubbornness.

I, Connie Hickok, leave Knox Memorial with the hope that my sister Coleen will have as many good times in her high school years as I have had in mine.

I, Linda Hutchinson, leave to anyone who needs it, all the charm, social poise, and culture with a capital C that I gained at Ogden Heights College in our Senior Play.

I, Glenn Loop, leave to the future teams of Knox Memorial, hope that they will always have someone like Stowell's Service Station to supply Mr. Parker with gum at their games.

I, John Lozo, leave all my books to anybody who wants them.

I, Stephen Luther, leave Mr. Wiese a neater and cleaner looking lounge. (Boys Room)

I, Patricia McCollum, leave many thanks to all the teachers who have put up with me throughout my high school years.

I, Dortha Morse, leave to Mrs. McKinnon, Mr. Morgan, and Mrs. Bristol, three tattered voo doo dolls.

I, Arlena Rowe, leave to anyone under five feet in height, my deepest sympathy.

I, Barry Strate, being of sound mind and physically unfit body, leave to anyone who will take her, my sister Vickie.

I, Charles Tupper, leave Knox to my brother, Jim.

I, Arnold Van Brocklin, leave to any Junior that needs it, the ability to find Jim's parties.

I, Phillip Van Brocklin, leave to Mr. Knauerhase, peace and quiet.

I, Jack White, leave, too, as the only accelerated senior student for the year.

I, Karl White, leave to Mrs. McKinnon, memories.

I, Douglas Whiteford, leave to Mr. Hanno, one less confused student.

I, Michael Whitmarsh, leave to Margie Stowell, the ability to always get to her classes on time. I never could make it to my own.

I, Thomas Whitmarsh, leave to Knox High, some much needed peace and quiet.

I, Roger Willard, leave to Mr. Wiese, the happy thought of having only one more Willard to go.

CLASS PROPHECY

The time is the year 1978, the place is the Bunny Club in Russell, a popular suburb of the famous city of DeGrasse. I have come to this exquisite place to attend the reunion of the Class of 1968 of Knox Memorial Central School.

As I enter the club, I am welcomed by the master of ceremonies, Gary Denesha. He has in his hand a diamond-studded piece of cheese, awarded him as the best cheese-manufacturer in New York State. I am then ushered to a small table by the owner of this swank place, Glenn Loop, himself, and find myself sitting with Arnold Van Brocklin (DeGrasse's famous and skillful heart surgeon), Linda Hutchinson (Knox High's chemistry teacher), and Jim Gagnon (owner of the DeGrasse Hunting Resort) with his top hunting game guide, Jack White.

We are promptly waited on by three "Bunnies", whom I recognize as Kela Guiles, Suzanne Bushaw, and Marsha Hance. I am informed by Suzie that Ronnie Bice will not be able to attend as he is presently serving our country in Vietnam. "Speaking of Vietnam, look," says Kela and points to a corner of the room. There I see a small figure in a wheelchair, but I am unable to perceive who it is under the bandages. Marsha informs me, "It's Linda Gollinger, our nurse heroine just back from Vietnam herself."

During the course of our meal, my eyes fall on many familiar faces. One is Dorothea Morse (better known as Dot) who is one of DeGrasse's outstanding beauticians. Dot is relating one of her minor catastrophies to three members of the married set, formerly Teena Rowe, Chris Bigwarfe, and Joyce Ashlaw. I notice that Joyce and Chris are wearing large, glittering rubies and am informed that their husbands are well-known jewelers in the city.

At the table next to mine I discover Tom Collett (professional dog walker), Karl White (leading comic book publisher), Steve Luther (owner of "Romeo's Used Car Lot"), and Roger Willard (DeGrasse's Beach Surfing Champ). They are discussing the types of poodles walked by Tom each day.

The entertainment for the evening is provided by a three-piece band. It consists of Pat McCollum, Connie Hickok, and David Brassard, and is conducted by none other than Barry Strate. Teena, who, besides being a housewife, leads their fan club, informs me that they have recently had their statues erected in Lincoln Park. As the entertainment continues, we have on stage, Tom Whitmarsh who regales us with his elephant jokes.

Suddenly we hear a drum roll (played by our own little drummer boy, Mike Whitmarsh) and in walk Sherry Dana and Garnold Hance. Sherry has worked her way to the top and is now DeGrasse's star model. Her escort, Garnold, prides himself as mayor of DeGrasse.

A little behind Sherry and Garnold come two more distinguished-looking figures. One is "Banker Beachard", better known as Doug Beachard, and with him Doug Whiteford, who now runs his own Grasse River Steamboat Line.

Finally, last but not least, Ranger Phillip Van Brocklin arrives. He is still in his hiking outfit, which consists of a green shorts-suit and knee socks. He apologizes and explains that he didn't change his clothes for fear of missing the reunion entirely. We all excuse him except Chief of Police, John Lozo, who arrests him for indecent exposure.

The hour is getting late. This celebration will go on all night, but I fear I must go. I say my good-byes to all, and as I drive away, I am happy that the ten years since graduation haven't separated us, but brought us closer together.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The faculty members are very proud and happy to announce that Knox Memorial has obtained a charter in the National Honor Society. This organization is chartered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Membership in this organization is based not only upon scholarship, but also upon service, leadership and character. A member can lose this honor by failing to continue the high standards upon which this membership was originally voted.

Candidates for membership in the Seymour H. Knox Chapter include David Brassard, Suzanne Bushaw, Marsha Hance, Linda Hutchinson, and Glenn Loop, all seniors, and Deborah Colton, Connie Curtis, Reginald LaPoint, Valerie Manning, Charles Partlow, and Gwen Towne, all juniors.

Everyone at Knox Memorial should be very proud of Marsha Hill, a 1967 graduate of Knox. Last August at the New York State Fair Band Competition, Marsha placed fourth out of 12 girls from all over the state in the Drum Majorette category winning a trophy as well as the recognition. CONGRATULATIONS, Marsha.

The Knox Memorial Eagles have placed first in the Oswegatchie Valley League for the second consecutive year. At the close of the season Knox and Colton were tied for first place, each having won 9 games and lost 1. The decisive game was played at Canton A. T. C. field. Knox was victorious by a 1-0 score.

By winning the championship the Eagles played the winner of the Northern League, Madrid-Waddington. Knox tried hard but couldn't keep ahead of the Northern Champs. The game ended with Madrid-Waddington 3 and Knox 1. Madrid-Waddington became champions of the Section X playoffs.
